Our planet is being damaged by the way we produce and use energy. For example, exhaust fumes from cars produces pollution that we breath in, affecting our health. The symbols/pictures below represent some ways in which our environment is being damaged.

1. Select each of the words and print them under the correct symbol/picture.
2. Place a large tick next to the type of damage you are most concerned about.
3. Explain you answer to question 2.
4. In the space left below, draw a symbol that represents another way in which the environment is damaged.
