TOWER DESIGN

The Eiffel Tower is one of the worlds most famous towers and probably the best known attraction in any city. Since its construction millions of people have climbed its stairs or used its elevators to reach the top. London is a famous and historical city. For many years London's designers and engineers have dreamt about building a tower or structure that will become even more famous than its rival in Paris.

You have been named as the designer. Sketch two possible towers/structures below and add labels that point out each of the towers attractions. Two famous towers are shown below - to help you develop your own ideas.
