WHAT IS COPYRIGHT?

COPYRIGHT
SYMBOL

Copyright aims to protect people, companies and organisations that produce creative and artistic work.

An author can claim copyright protection for his/her books or a song writer can protect his/her songs.

www.technologystudent.com

In order to claim copyright, it is essential that the work you are trying to protect is completely your own.

Copyright law covers many areas including; Literature, Drama, Music, Art, Layouts, Recordings, Broadcasts.

REGISTERED TRADEMARK?

SYMBOL
REGISTERED
TRADEMARK

A trademark is a symbol/sign that identifies your products or services.

A trademark can be words or pictures or a combination of both. A fee is paid to the Intellectual Property Office, who decide whether a symbol/logo can be regarded as a protected trademark. Often trademarks are used to advertise products or services. A trademark must be distinctive and distinguish your goods from those of other traders/manufacturers. It must not be confused with other trademarks. A registered trademark is denoted by ®.

WHAT IS A PATENT?

A patent protects a person or company that invents something new. If you invent a new type of pen, you should patent your design. This should prevent anyone or another company from stealing your idea, manufacturing it and making money for themselves. A patent protects your design for the first five years and then you must apply annually for the next fifteen years (twenty years in total).
